

PDW: JUNIOR SCHOLARS AND THE SDGS

How to do impactful research and be supported
2pm-3pm ET, Friday, 4/22/22 - ZOOM LINK

Calling all junior scholars! Are you doing research with a focus on improving society? Curious about the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and how research can advance them? Interested in connecting with other junior scholars?

Consider attending our FREE, virtual PDW "Junior Scholars and the SDGs," hosted as part of the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) North America Biennial Meeting, hosted at George Mason University's Business for a Better World Center.

This session of the conference will feature a diverse array of junior scholars, all of whom are conducting research that aligns with one or more of the U.N. SDGs. This session is offered at no cost and in virtual format in an effort to be inclusive of all interested junior scholars. Senior scholars who are interested in perspectives on how junior scholars researching ethics & sustainability can be supported are also welcome! We will also preview some future events during which scholars can receive feedback on in-progress manuscripts from editors and reviewers at top journals like the Journal of Business Ethics and Business & Society.

To register for just this free event, click here:

https://wcupa.col.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_6L85DYgcTm44Gyy

Paid registration for in-person, full conference participation or virtual attendance at core sessions, including a panel with representatives from AACSB and Cabells, launch of a business school curriculum of majors with full integration of sustainability, teaching and learning resources, and other sessions is available at: <https://business.gmu.edu/news/2022-02/prme-north-america-2022-biennial-meeting-april-21-23-2022>

For questions about the conference, please contact b4bworld@gmu.edu.